

Fotó: Wágner Csapó József

Andrea Csereklyei DLA, Assistant professor

Her debut on the opera stage was in 1998 (Pamina), followed by recitals where she mainly performs as a soloist of classical and baroque oratorios. She frequently sings at song recitals, and has been involved in the premier of several contemporary works. She is a soloist of leading orchestras in Hungary and a returning guest of different festivals. She has participated in a number of radio and television programs, and is the soloist of multiple records in the “World Premiere” series of medieval, renaissance and baroque music, published by Hungaroton Records. In 1999 she was awarded the Artisjus Prize, she won the Annie Fischer scholarship in 2000-2001. In 2014 and 2019 she won the scholarship of the Hungarian Academy of Arts. She has been a guest artist in Vienna, Salzburg, Moscow, Cluj Napoca, Bucharest, Bratislava, Prague, the Hague, Florence, Munich, Stuttgart, London, Mexico and China. She held successful masterclasses in the Czech Republic and China.

She obtained her DLA in 2018 at Liszt Academy in Budapest. She is currently assistant professor at Miskolc University and voice training teacher at Liszt Academy in Budapest.